No R.S.V.P. Required!

It's that time of year...
When visions of sugar plums dance in your head.

Forget the sugar plums.

Instead...
It's visions of horses that prance in your head!

Skip the chestnuts roasting on an open fire,
Make it chestnuts and bays charging for the wire.

No need to dress up; this party is at your place.
Now imagine those beauties as they line up to race.

They bring the thrills to our holiday cheer.
Wishing you all a very Happy New Year!

Providing a future beyond the finish line.<sup>SM</sup>

Do you know him? With 101 starts, Kid Rigo has known scores of owners and trainers, let alone betting fans. Horses like “Kid” are often referred to as the bread and butter of the racing industry. The Exceller Fund refers to them as “Racing Warriors” and provides them lifetime sanctuary.

KID RIGO

Foaled Feb. 23, 1998

Summer Squall - Higher Learning by Fappiano

Though he was not adoptable due to physical limitations, Kid Rigo did participate in our Operation Therapeutic Warrior Program where he was a therapy horse at a residential treatment center for troubled boys. Now in his golden years, this amazing equine athlete enjoys the pampered life of an Exceller Fund permanent retiree... He has earned it.

Tell us how much you enjoyed our Holiday Party!

- $25 – Forget the sugar plums; Carrots are my favorite thing!
- $50 – Hot steamy oats are better than roasted chestnuts anytime!
- $100 – Pass on the weird hors d’oeuvres, alfalfa preferred!
- $250 – The weather may be frightful, but a month’s worth of carrots, oats and alfalfa would be delightful!
